"Yes," he continued, "I am familiar with the average American constitution, and I have no hesitation in saying that the wear and tear on the nervous systems of thousands of people who will visit the great exhibition will be attended with terribly fatal results. While at Chicago hey will put the timishing touch to their wearied nerves by rushing around wildly day after day in the vain lope of seeing all that is to be seen. all that is to be seen. The effect on any but the strongest constitutions is awful to think about."

No one can question the truth of these words, and they give rise to some very serious thoughts. Thousands of men and women in America constantly overwork the body, overtax the brain and weaken the system through too close attention to severe so soil duties, business or under indugence, but above all they wear out the nerves. Something must be taken to feed the nerves, to give them strength, and to make the whole body feel the glow of all fide and the whole body feel the glow of all fide and the whole body feel the glow of all fide and the whole body feel the glow of all fide and the whole body feel the glow of all fide and the whole system find repose and refreshing sleep. For this purpose nothing has ever been known equal to the great modern discovery, Paine's celery compound. This is a perfect food for the brain and nerves. It is no ordinary confection, nervine, sarsaparilla or tonic, but a veritable blessing to weary brains, overstrained nerves and weakened lives.

Albert H. Hardy, the celebrated author, now editor of Godey's, whose work, "The Maid of Bethany," is recommended by such men as Mr. Gladstone, D. L. Moody and others, recently said:

"Fully appreciating the benefits I have derived from the use of Paine's celery compound. I take pleasure in recommending it to others. After suffering for months with sleeplessness and nervous prostration, I was persuaded to try the compound.
